

SEATriP (SEAS and SEAS-related) Courses: Academic Year 2018-2019

Fall 2018:

Graduate Seminars:

SEAS 200/ ANTH 202: Topics in Southeast Asian Studies – Prof. Christina Schwenkel (Mondays 10am-1pm) Note: students can take this seminar up to 12 credits (three times)

Upper-division Undergraduate Courses (can be taken with concurrent SEAS 292 enrollment to fulfill graduate course requirement):

SEAS 136/ANTH 136: Gender and Southeast Asia – Prof. Christina Schwenkel (can be substituted for SEAS 203) (MWF 2-3pm)

HIST 185: Ancient Southeast Asian History – Prof. David Biggs (can be substituted for SEAS 204)

CPLT 163/SEAS 163: Nationalism and the Novel – TBA (can be substituted for SEAS 205)

Winter 2019 (tentative)

Graduate Seminars:

SEAS 205: Literatures of Southeast Asia – TBA

Upper-division Undergraduate Courses (can be taken with concurrent SEAS 292 enrollment to fulfill graduate course requirement):

CPLT/GSST 22: World Literature by Women– Prof. Tammy Ho

Spring 2019:

Upper-division Undergraduate Courses (can be taken with concurrent SEAS 292 enrollment to fulfill graduate course requirement):

MUS 127/ANTH 176/AST 127/DNCE 127/ETST 172
Music Cultures of Southeast Asian Music –Prof. Deborah Wong (can be substituted for SEAS 201)

RLST 113 Topics in Modern Islam – Prof. Muhamad Ali (can be substituted for SEAS 202)

HIST 186 Modern Southeast Asia – Prof. David Biggs (can be substituted for SEAS 204)

